Torrance Family YMCA Observes Easter Season

The Torrance Family YMCA teenagers are celebrating the Easter Season with a two-breakfast series of discussions with ministers.

The first of the two sessions was held March 30 morning at the Torrance Y building with more than thirty high school students in attendance. The Rev. Dwaine Cerbin of the First Christian Church of Burbank spoke on the subject of "Science and Religion."

Cerbin's message to the YMCA students was concerned with man's advancement in science, and with the emergence of new problems with which we must deal. The speaker warned the young adults that life may become so complex in the future that man would seek avenues of interest and expression apart from pure science.

The first Pre-Easter Breakfast was prepared by the members of the Dior's Tri-Hi-Y Club of South High School, and served by the Debonnaires Tri-Hi-Y Club of North Torrance High School. The invocation was pronounced by Ted Petepiece of the Domini Hi-Y Club of South High School, and the hymn sing was lead by members of the Sorrels Tri-Hi-Y Club of South High.

The second was held Saturday, April 6, when Rev. Charles Hughes, Western Ave. Baptist Church spoke on the topic, "Who Cares About Religion?"

Asst. Defense Secretary Speaks Armed Forces Day

Norman S. Paul, assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower, has accepted the invitation to be grand marshal of the Torrance Armed Forces Day Parade and principal speaker at the parade luncheon, Saturday, May 18.

The announcement was made by Fred Rathert, parade general chairman, of Ryan Aeronautical Co., San Diego.

Rathert said that the four annual Armed Forces Day Parade for Torrance promises to be even greater than last year's record showing which made it the largest civic-sponsored parade in Southern California.

"Signs indicate that this will undoubtedly be the biggest military parade this year west of the Rocky Mountains," Rathert said, "and probably the greatest civic-sponsored parade in the entire west."

"We feel very honored to have Assistant Secretary Paul accept our invitation, said Rathert, "and I can assure you that Torrance is going all-out to make him welcome on Armed Forces Day, May 18." The Torrance parade will climax Armed Forces Week activities for the greater Los Angeles area.
